Report on Sabbath Schools

Your committee on Sabbath Schools, respectfully report the following:

The great importance of Sabbath Schools in the different departments of Society, is now almost universally acknowledged. There may be a few who oppose them, but they are those who never enjoyed their advantages. We regret, however, to have to report, that, from the information we have been able to collect, this important institution has been greatly neglected during the past year, and that the churches generally, are far behind their duty in imparting, as far as possible, to the young a knowledge of the Bible.

Our Missionaries, Robertson and Dodson, inform us that they have established several Sabbath Schools during the past year, but they have been greatly neglected for the want of teachers to take an interest in them, and keep them up when established. Members of the church should take more interest in this institution; they should remember that, in order to do good, they must deny themselves.

The youth, while thus engaged, is secure from the temptations which so frequently beset that particular age; and he not only acquires a knowledge of the holy Scriptures, but, by associating with Christians, he is immediately led to inquire what he must do to inherit eternal life.

Some of the most useful men that were ever in the Baptist church, were zealous advocates of Sabbath Schools. Fox established Sabbath Schools. Hughs, one of the originators of the Bible Society in England, spent much of his time in Sabbath Schools. Most of our Missionaries to China took a deep interest in Sabbath Schools while in America. Dr. Going, one of our most eminent ministers, engaged with deep interest in Sabbath Schools.

KIMBROUGH THOMPSON, Ch'm.

Report on Tracts.

Your committee are aware that the subject of Tracts has, from time to time, been written upon, and spoken of, in our religious assemblies, and all that can be said has been said in their favor, and no one is disposed to doubt their usefulness to the generality of mankind. Many are the benefits that have been derived from the distribution of tracts, and many precious souls have been snatched from ruin by the reading of a simple tract.

The advantage that Tracts have over many of the efforts that are now put forth for the good of men is, that they can be circulated among that class of the community, and in the very haunts of sin, where the living witness could not be admitted.

But it may be said, that we are aware of the great good to be derived from the distribution of Tracts; but where are we to obtain them? We answer, from the Baptist Publication and Sunday School Society. The object of this Society is to sell to the friends of religion in North Carolina at the cheapest rates that can be afforded, Tracts, Biographies, and other publications for the special benefit of mankind. These Tracts, books, &c., may be obtained of the Depository agent at Raleigh.

Your committee would, therefore, recommend the following resolution:

Resolved, therefore, That our churches and Missionaries be requested to use their influence in circulating Tracts, &c., in the various regions in which they operate.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

D. S. WILLIAMS, Ch'm.

Report on Education.

The committee to whom was referred the subject of Education, ask leave to make the following report:

Education is of paramount importance, and demands the attention and co-operation of every friend of his race. Its use in the various departments of life is so obvious, and its practicability so universally conceded, at this day, that we deem it almost unnecessary to insist upon this feature of the subject.

To the Ambassador of Christ, a thorough education is necessary, to enable him to successfully meet and repel the various errors which are now propagated in the world. The prejudices of men must be broken down—the arguments of the infidel must be answered.

How is this to be done? Not by mere declamation, but by close and conclusive reasoning; by mind acting upon mind; by being able to clear the subject of the difficulties in which it may be involved, and to present it in such a clear and forcible light, that the judgment will be forced to submit.

This much desired object can be attained only by a laborious course of study, close thinking and discipline. The days of inspiration are past. God no longer holds the pen of his Ministers, and tells them what they must say. Men cannot receive knowledge intuitively, however sacred the office. "Strive to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth," is the advice which Paul gives to Timothy.

We are happy, however, to say, that in our own denomination, a very manifest and commendable zeal is seen in the efforts which are now being made to establish schools, both male and female, in various sections of our country. Your committee cannot but regard this as a favorable token that those prejudices which have existed with regard to education, are now about to give way, and that a new era is about to dawn upon our country.

Allow your committee, in conclusion, to present to the fostering ears of the Convention, and to the Baptist denomination generally, the Wake Forest College.

This institution commenced operations in Feb., 1834, and from the repeated favors which God has shown it, in pouring out his holy spirit upon it, and from the patronage which it has received from various sections of our State, and from other States, we are led to the conclusion, that God's hand was in its formation.

By the liberality of some of its friends, the College is now nearly relieved from its pecuniary embarrassments, which have, hitherto, somewhat crippled its efforts; and will soon be placed on a firm basis.

The institution has a new and important collection of minerals, and a chemical and philosophical apparatus, sufficient to illustrate all the important facts and principles of Natural Science. We, as a denomination, must sustain our own institutions, by giving our money—our influence, and our patronage. Respectfully submitted.

W. T. BROOKS, Ch'm.

Report on Foreign Missions.

The Committee on Foreign Missions would respectfully submit the following report:

The foreign field for Missionary labor has never been so extensive or so full of promise, as it is at the present time. In the Burman Empire, where our Missionaries were destined to toil for several years, without a single convert, there are now not only numerous converts, but churches, and even Associations. Native Pastors and Missionaries are numerous. Revivals of religion are frequent. Accessions are sometimes made by thousands; and, in some respects, the Missionary stations and districts begin to exhibit the aspect of a Christian country.

The vast empire of China has recently become accessible. We have several Missionaries now laboring, and preparing themselves to labor, in that field. As yet, but little has been done in the way of making converts, or raising up churches. Still the people are anxious to hear the gospel preached, to receive tracts, and to be otherwise informed on the subject of Christianity. The hope is confidently entertained that, with a divine blessing, the Gospel will be cheerfully accepted by that people, and that the whole empire will speedily become subject to the dominion of Christ.

Our missions in Germany have also been greatly prospered of late. Bro. Oncken and others have been instrumental, not only in effecting numerous conversions, but in constituting and sustaining sundry churches. If we recollect correctly, churches of our faith have been established, not only in Germany proper, but also in Prussia and Denmark.

Other denominations have been perhaps equally successful. In Turkey, in Prussia, in different portions of the East, and in the distant islands of the sea, the Congregationalists, the Presbyterians, and others, have extensive and flourishing Missions. This is emphatically a day of Missionary enterprise. Never before have such efforts been made to subdue the world to the dominion of truth. Never before has heathenism been so resolutely assailed by the power of the gospel, or evinced such striking indications of a speedy submission to the reign of the Savior.

Under such circumstances, Christians find the strongest encouragement to labor for the spread of the gospel, and to anticipate the advent of that day, when the kingdoms of this world shall become the kingdom of our Lord and of his Christ.

T. MEREDITH, Chairman.

Report on Home Missions.

The committee on Home Missions make the following report :

This institution is of the first importance, as its object is to supply our own State with the Gospel of Jesus Christ. In the moral conquest of the world, the Home Mission is to be a mighty auxilliary. Its operation is not confined to North Carolina, but embraces the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention. Our more immediate attention is directed to our own State. There is a great destitution in our Western borders. Besides a large scope of country, the towns of Salisbury, Lincolnton, Moxville, and others, are destitute of Baptist churches. To supply the great destitution in our State, we would recommend—

1st. That all Missionaries and Agents have moderate salaries, because most of our resources will arise from agriculture, the productions of which are always fluctuating in value. A Missionary can afford to labor on more moderate terms than a pastor, because his own board and that of his horse cost him nothing. Perhaps a married man should have some more than a single man, yet his wages should be moderate, for if he have a numerous family, he will have several large enough to assist in its support. If he has a small family, less will serve him. If all have moderate salaries, more laborers can work in the field, and more service can be rendered. Such a course will multiply friends, diminish enemies and receive the approbation of God. Now and forever let us avoid extravagance on one side, and covetousness on the other.

2d. That all the Missionaries do what they can, not only in collecting money on suitable occasions, but in preaching to the churches to support their pastors. By this means, all the pastors could go into the field, and aid the Missionaries in supplying the destitution. One Missionary in Kentucky is said to have done an immensity of good in this way, in 1838. Let our Missionaries follow the same example.

3d. As our field is so great, and our resources so small, not only in this State, but in the Southern States, your committee would recommend, after the exhaustion of all the means, that we follow the example of the Presbyterians in supplying towns and villages with the Gospel; that the Ministers obtain a portion of their support by teaching school.

In addition to what has been said, your committee recommend the churches to pray the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth laborers into his harvest.

ELIAS DODSON, Ch'n

Report on Periodicals.

Your committee on Periodicals present the following report :

We deem it of the utmost importance, in order to advance the Redeemer's kingdom on earth, and the interests of our denomination, that a more wide and extensive circulation of good religious Periodicals, in some way, be speedily brought about. It is a matter to be deeply regretted, that the different religious Periodicals, and especially those at home, so to speak, should receive so little patronage among our brethren and friends within this State. Old North Carolina, with her forty thousand Baptists, a large number of friends, and only one religious Periodical, (the Biblical Recorder,) only furnishes about six or seven hundred subscribers to that most valuable paper. Brethren, these things ought not so to be ; and as a remedy to this evil, we recommend that each subscriber to the Recorder consider himself a sort of voluntary agent, and do all he can to get one, two or more subscribers the ensuing year ; also, let each one do what he can to encourage the publication of the Southern Baptist Review, as proposed by the Editor of the Recorder. Brethren, let us all wake up on the subject of Periodicals, and try what we can do the ensuing year.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

MARK MAY, Chairman.

Annual Report of the Board of Managers.

In the absence of the Corresponding Secretary, who is providentially detained at home, and without the information which it was expected he would officially communicate, the Board can only furnish such facts of the labors of the past year, as their limited circumstances on this occasion have enabled them to collect.

With an expression of devout thankfulness to the Father of mercies for the bounties of another year, and especially for the preservation of the lives of the officers, of the Board of Managers, and of the Missionaries of the Convention, the Board will proceed to communicate directly, such information as they are able of the changes of the past Conventional year.

Home Mission Department.

The Home department has been conducted upon the plan heretofore pursued, and with encouraging success. Several Missionaries were employed at the last Convention, and some by the Board since. Their labors and success may be seen in the following statements, which are abridgements of their several reports.

Elder Mark May was appointed to labor in the bounds of the Yadkin Association, that body pledging for two-thirds of his support. In a report made to the Board, he says, "I have labored ten months ; travelled 2000 miles ; preached 179 sermons ; baptised 57 persons ; aided in the constitution of one church ; and received from the churches and individuals, $180 70."

Elder John Robertson was appointed to labor in the counties of Rockingham, Stokes, and Surry. He says, "Since the last meeting of the Convention, I have labored as Missionary nine months ; one of which I performed gratuitously, and one in consideration of a letter addressed to me by an unknown person, dated Forestville, N. C., and signed "Mary," enclosing $20, and requesting me to labor in Stokes county." He adds, "I have travelled 1488 miles ; preached 90 sermons ; baptized 12 persons ; attended several protracted meetings ; assisted in the constitution of one church; and have received for domestic missions $51 59; for foreign missions $1 00; and for the Bible Society, 1 50."

Elder D. G. Taylor was requested to labor in connection with Bro. Robertson, from the 10th of September up to the present time. He states that, owing to sickness and inclement weather, he was able to labor only 21 days, during which time he travelled 368 miles; preached 18 sermons; baptized 3 persons, and assisted in the constitution of one church.

Elder J. J. James, who was requested by the Board to continue his labors in Greensboro, reports that, owing to the pressing nature of the interests of Wake Forest College, and other things which devolved upon him, he has been unable to supply the brethren and friends in Greensboro with regular preaching. In addition, however, to some other labors, he has held two protracted meetings, assisted each time by Bro. S. Wait. The meetings were well attended by the citizens of the town generally, and seemed to result in good to the Baptist cause. Several have been added by letter and experience, and one by baptism. There are about 15 members in this town who are formed into a branch of the Madison church. They are very anxious to be supplied with regular preaching, and request that the Convention will continue to assist. They expect also, shortly to procure a comfortable house of worship. He also adds, that Greensboro is a flourishing town of 2,000 inhabitants, and as a Missionary station promises as much as any other town in the State.

Elder E. Dodson was appointed to labor in the bounds of the Beulah Association, that body pledging his entire support. In his report he says:

"During the associational year, I have travelled 2550 miles, preached 240 sermons, and baptized 73 persons. The miles travelled are fewer than in preceding years, because from the last of January to the middle of April, I was absent on a journey to and from Mississippi,

I have obtained for the Biblical Recorder 16 subscribers; for the Baptist Guardian 47; for the Southern Baptist 3; for the Christian Index 6; for the Alabama Baptist 4; for the Mississippi Baptist 1; for the Indian Advocate 4; for the Christian Review 1. As I passed through each State, I did everything I could for the press, because my experience for the last ten years has taught me that where there was an indifference to the press, there was generally an indifference to all other important objects, or less interest manifested in them. A church of 20 members, if 5 of them take religious papers, will do more for their pastor and every other benevolent object which adorns the age, than a church of 100 members who have ten times more property, and who do not take such periodicals.—Some excuse themselves by saying they are unable to take a paper. Such persons ought to reflect that the art of printing, which pours such a flood of light upon the world, is a very little advantage to them, if they are willing to stand so far in the rear of the present march of mind. Any man in good health if he is industrious and is worth $100, is able to take a newspaper. An intemperate man can spend 8 or 10 dollars for whiskey to destroy his reason, and why cannot a religious man spend 2 or 3 to improve his mind. If a man says that he has not time for such reading, let him take the time he employs in jokes and trivial conversation and in the course of the week he will have sufficient leisure for reading.

I attended interesting protracted meetings at Cay Fork, Friendship, Little Yadkin and other places.

At Leaksville, the 2d Lord's day in July, I attended with brethren Taylor and Robertson where there were 7 converts.

On the 3d Lord's day in the same month, I attended near Wentworth, with brethren Witherington and Barnes, where there were 12 converts.

On the 4th Lord's day, bro. Neal and myself commenced a protracted meeting at Hogan's Creek, M. H., resulting in 5 or 6 conversions.

On the 5th Lord's day I commenced another with the Beulah church. I was assisted by bro. Samuel Wait. There were 6 conversions at this meeting.

I have formed some Sabbath Schools, and I do regret that there is so much indifference to this mighty instrumentality for doing good among the rising generation.

I have received $20 45,

If the months of August and October were devoted exclusively to protracted meetings with the exception of one day each week for rest (which might be Friday or Saturday) much good might be accomplished."

The services of Elder Wm. Jones were secured early in the present year, as general agent of the Convention, since which time he has been occupied with the duties of his appointment. He has visited most of the churches and Associations in the Eastern and middle portions of our State, and has been successful in raising an amount of funds which it is hoped will meet the present liabilities of the Board. For particulars the Convention is referred to bro. Jones' own report of his labor.

In concluding this interesting and important part of our labors, the Board feel that while there is much to encourage in the home field, from the past success of our Missionaries, the great destitution which still exists, calls upon us in the most imperative manner, to increase our exertions to give to the destitute of our State the preached word. The Board would also respectfully invite the attention of the Convention to the importance of establishing Missionary stations in the towns and villages in our State where there are no Baptist churches. Without consuming time to offer the reasons, they can but be persuaded that the importance of the subject will at once commend itself to the consideration of the Convention.

Foreign Mission Department.

In reference to this branch of our labors, it is needful only to make a few simple statements. Our Foreign Missions, as conducted by the Foreign Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, are progressing as rapidly as we could reasonably expect, both in Asia and Africa, but more particularly in the latter. Bro. Yates and his wife are prosecuting their studies preparatory to teaching the heathen with encouraging success, and expect ere long to be able to preach Christ to the inhabitants of Shanghai.

The Raleigh Association, a constituent body of this Convention, still continues to manifest a noble zeal in sustaining them by their contributions. Other donations are also made to this object, besides an express agency appointed in this State, by the Foreign Board in Richmond, Va.

Education Department.

During the past year two beneficiaries under the patronage of the Convention have been studying at Wake Forest College. These young brethren are making regular progress in their studies, and one of them expects to graduate next summer. The Board are happy to state that the amount which was due last year in this department, has been paid off, and there are some funds now on hand, which may be appropriated toward increasing the number of our beneficiaries. All of which is respectfully submitted, in behalf of the Board.

Report of the Agent of the Convention.

I have laboured 8 months and 21 days for the Convention. I have obtained donations and subscriptions to the amount of about $1550. I have travelled more than 2800 miles, and preached about 70 sermons. I have operated mainly by visiting and making personal applications. I have been everywhere kindly received, and much gratified to find the brethren and friends disposed to promote the objects of the Convention. The good seed of the word formerly sown in this State, is springing up; and if judiciously cultivated, will produce a bountiful harvest for the granary of the Lord.
